

Soldier's Photo Album

Private or amateur war photography consisted of personal photographs taken by soldiers with their own cameras. This is a copy of a scrapbook put together by Canadian soldier William van Allen, showing his life during the First World War. It includes photographs, telegraphs, and souvenirs from his time in war.

Excerpts from archival document