Official War Photography

These are some of the more than 8,000 photographs that were taken by professional photographers during the First World War. The Canadian military authorized the photographs.

Copies of archival documents